

Header information including patient name, address, and contact details.

Insurance information including policy number, group name, and effective dates.

Table with multiple columns and rows, likely containing procedure codes, descriptions, and charges.

Additional information section containing notes, dates, and possibly provider details.

Footer section containing form identification numbers and administrative details.

